The collected clothing is processed by a grading factory. The wearable clothing is sold to second hand stores and sent to second and third world countries. Any other items are processed as wiping cloths and recycled as textile fiber.

Are there any costs to us?

No, other than getting the word out to your supporters and the community, there are No costs to you. You will need to provide volunteers to help load the truck on the scheduled pick up day.

What kind of items are you buying and how do you pay?

We pay by the pound. We are looking to buy the following: Clean wearable clothing (all seasons) for Men, Women, and Children. (No tears or stains) Shoes (paired, please), purses, belts, hats, scarves, sheets, blankets, tablecloths, and towels.

Why is recycling clothing good for the environment?

According to the Council for Textile Recycling, the clothing recycling industry annually prevents 2.5 billion pounds of post consumer textile waste from entering the solid waste stream. Charities play a crucial role in the success of the industry, collecting clothing that might otherwise be headed to a landfill.
